Women Connecting for Habitat

Frequently Asked Questions

What is a “giving circle?” A giving circle is a group of individuals who pool their dollars and together decide where to give their money, while learning about philanthropy and their community.

What does Hammers & Heels do? The mission of the Pinellas and West Pasco Hammers & Heels circles is to improve the lives of low-income families in Pinellas and Pasco Counties through collective giving. Resources raised through memberships are used to continue building homes in partnership with Habitat families. In addition, resources may be used for special projects as determined by the Hammers & Heels leadership team.

How can I join? Join the Pasco or Pinellas group by making a $500 annual gift to Habitat for Humanity of Pinellas and West Pasco Counties. Visit habitatpwp.org to donate. Monthly payment plan is an option.

Company Sponsorships are available. For Pinellas County, please contact Pam Ora at pora@habitatpwp.org. For Pasco County, Please contact Patty Sutton at psutton@habitatpwp.org.

What is the term of membership? Annual. A member may join and make her gift any time during the year. The pool of money is available for distribution before the home is built. If made after June 30, the gift will become part of the resources distributed the following year.

What is “strategic philanthropy?” Philanthropy is strategic when its goal is to leverage a greater impact than is possible through the actual dollars or time invested. The intent of strategic giving is to support comprehensive solutions that will make a lasting difference for entire target populations.

The following are examples of strategic philanthropy as it relates to Habitat for Humanity:

- Collective giving creates a larger resource pool so that individual members have greater impact on the families we serve.
- Hammers & Heels members focus on key Habitat initiatives in order to make a lasting difference for target populations.
- Hammers & Heels fosters collaboration among community partners and facilitates shared learning among agencies serving families in Pinellas and Pasco Counties.

What is the money used for? Of the $500 annual contribution, 100% goes directly into the annual fund that sponsors the Women Build every spring.

Is my gift tax deductible? Yes, a gift to Habitat for Humanity of Pinellas and West Pasco Counties, through our Hammers & Heels program is a charitable contribution and is tax deductible to the fullest extent of the law.

What volunteer opportunities are available? A member’s participation may range from simply making a gift to attending Hammers and Heels social events. Volunteer opportunities include building on the Women’s Build or ongoing home builds, volunteering in the ReStores and helping out in the administration offices. Flexible schedules are offered.
